BARBARA K. REESE

FORT WORTH, Barbara Kay Reese of Box 536 in Hope, Arkansas, expects to complete degree requirements and be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree in the English field at spring commencement at Texas Christian University on May 31.

The event, to begin at 7:30 p.m. with an academic procession, will be held in TCU's Daniel Meyer Coliseum. More than 765 earned degrees will be conferred by Dr. J. M. Moody, TCU chancellor, to mark this as the largest group of graduates in the University's history. The 1966 spring total was 754 degrees.

SHARON FIELDING

Miss Sharon Fielding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fielding, will begin study next fall for a master's degree in French as a Fellow in Experienced Teacher Program at the University of Arkansas.

Miss Fielding is one of fifteen from Arkansas and immediately adjacent states to get a fellowship to study French, Spanish, or German. The fellowships carry a $4,000 stipend.

She was valedictorian of the 1961 graduating class of Hope High School, was graduated cum laude from Ouachita Baptist University in 1965, and has been a member of the North Little Rock High School faculty for the past two years. This summer she will tour eight European countries with a group.

The winds which flow over the north and south temperate zones in an easterly direction are called the prevailing westerlies.

Variety of Weather in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A variety of weather greeted Arkansans today, including more rain, after heavy rainfall drenched the state Wednesday causing flooding on streets at Conway and Forrest City.

There were scattered showers and thundershowers in southern Arkansas this morning, drizzle and fog in northeast sections and partly cloudy skies in extreme western portions of the state.

The shower activity in South Arkansas moved eastward this morning, but another band of thundershowers developed in the western border areas, and was expected to move across the state today.

A weak stationary front along northern Tennessee and northern Arkansas is exerting the major influence on the state's weather.

More sunshine is forecast over the state than Wednesday with little change in temperatures expected.

High temperatures Wednesday ranged from 69 at Walnut Ridge to 82 at Fort Smith. Overnight lows were in the 60s.

Stobaugh Has Sent in His Decision

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Carl Stobaugh, former Conway County welfare director, has accepted reinstatement and will take a transfer to Cleburne County, although he doesn't want to.

Stobaugh told Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock in a letter that he would like for the state Welfare Board to decide whether he could remain in Conway County.

"If the state Welfare Board decides if it would be in the best interest of the department to transfer me, then I will willingly abide by their decision," Stobaugh said.

"However, pending action of the state Welfare Board, I am ready to go to work in accordance with the conditions set forth in your letter."

such a situation.

With a British naval buildup already reported around Aden, at the southern end of the Red Sea, the British aircraft carrier Hermes was recalled to Aden because of the crisis. She had been en route to the Far East.

Another carrier, the U.S. Navy's 41,000-ton Intrepid, was scheduled to pass through the Suez Canal into the Red Sea today with 78 jet fighters aboard, but diplomatic sources said she was bound for Vietnam.

The arrival in Egypt of forces from other Arab nations added little numerically to the 80,000 Egyptian troops Nasser has concentrated in the Sinai Peninsula on Israel's southwest border. But the arrivals underlined the growing Arab unity Nasser is forging.

An advance unit of the Iraqi army arrived by plane in Egypt Wednesday, and more Iraqi troops were scheduled to arrive today. Among them was the son of Iraqi President Abdul Rahman Aref, a young lieutenant.

Cairo Radio said an army contingent from Kuwait also arrived in Egypt.

In Jordan, the latest Arab recruit to Nasser's cause, reservists rolled into an army camp about four hours' drive from the Israeli border Wednesday for outfitting with American and British weapons. "Victory will be ours," they chanted.

Jordan came into the anti-Israel front when King Hussein and Nasser signed a mutual defense pact Tuesday. Despite the pact, Syria's socialist regime kept up its propaganda attacks on Hussein, and Nasser sent a mission to Damascus in an attempt to patch up this breach in Arab unity.

Egypt Warns U.S. Against Involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Egyptian envoy has warned the United States to avoid involvement in Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba — termed by the Israeli ambassador "our second lung."

Ambassador Mostafa Kamel of Egypt said Wednesday that if a third party enters the Arab-Israeli dispute, "this will really make the crisis serious."

His statement came after a one-hour session with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Johnson met with his Cabinet to discuss the crisis, but the White House continues to remain silent on any developments. This follows a policy, announced last week, of working through diplomatic channels to resolve the dispute.

The State Department denied newspaper reports that Turkey has pledged to block U.S. use of Turkish bases if war breaks out in the Middle East.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said the question hadn't arisen. He said there are no U.S. bases in Turkey, but acknowledged some Turkish facilities are available to the United States under various agreements.

Other U.S. officials said privately U.S. involvement in the Middle East would not require use of Turkish bases.

McCloskey also refused to discuss the Egyptian-Jordanian mutual defense pact — solemnized at a meeting Tuesday of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Jordan's King Hussein, long-time foes.

George Christian, White House press secretary, did say Wednesday's Cabinet session included discussion of petroleum.

"HELLO, CHIEF. Things are really buzzing down here. Lotta activity. They're swarming all over the place. Better send down a couple of extra men, with some smoke bombs and hives. Yeh, hives." Cop with a problem is Sgt. Joe Cullinane of St. Louis, who found that a swarm of bees had picked his call box for a temporary home.

Commissions Refuse to Resign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All members of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission have rejected Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's demand that they resign and the governor told newsmen he would say Friday what action he would take.

Rockefeller said Wednesday he did not intend to take over the commission or the state Highway Commission. He said, however, the public was looking to him for results.

"Philosophically, I think there has got to be some way for the governor to have some recourse," Rockefeller said.

He noted that commission members serve terms ranging from seven to 10 years while a governor is elected every two years.

He declined to say what action he would take if the Game and Fish Commission members did not resign by his noon Friday deadline. "I can tell you Friday afternoon," the governor said.

At about the same time Rockefeller was talking to newsmen, the Game and Fish Commission met and voted unanimously not to resign.

The commission sent the governor a letter saying that under Amendment 35, which established the commission, "we have an obligation to the sportsmen of Arkansas to serve our legally appointed time."

The members said that if they resigned "a condition would be brought about that the people of Arkansas voted to prohibit by adopting Amendment 35."

Rockefeller also said in a news conference he believes Hugh Hackler, director of the Game and Fish Commission, "probably does not qualify for the job."

Rockefeller said, on another matter, that he still thought it was up to the local authorities to check illegal gambling. He said he did not think the State Police should be asked to be "vigilantes."

The governor said he planned to have the State Police check into reports of illegal gambling at Hot Springs. The governor said, however, "I don't think you'll ever, within the strict interpretation of the law, restrict gambling."

Rockefeller also said Highway Commissioner Lawrence Blackwell told him a request by the Turnpike Authority for $100,000 to study 1,200 miles of turnpike corridors conflicts with a later request that the commission sign contracts for studies.

Some ranking Democrats have said recently that Rockefeller could be defeated in 1968. Asked about the contention, Rockefeller said: "I think the Democrats are whistling in the dark. It's music to my ears."

The governor also said the 1967 General Assembly tried to "bankrupt" his administration. He cited two measures that he used to explain his charge. They authorized additional funds for the state's nursing homes and appropriated money for the state Cosmetology Board.

Rockefeller said an amendment to the Cosmetology Board appropriation bill that jeopardized the board's operations for the next two years was "a capricious move" by a group in the Senate.

The amendment prohibited the expenditure of any of the board's funds until all board members had been confirmed by the Senate. Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell has ruled the bill invalid.

Pope Receives Charles de Gaulle

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI received President Charles de Gaulle today and appealed for progress toward European unity as a step toward world peace.

In a statement read after the 69-year-old pontiff and the 79-year-old president conferred alone for 20 minutes, the Pope said the French chief of state's attendance at the Common Market summit conference in Rome Monday and Tuesday showed the value attributed to "the good functioning and affirmation of the European community."

"This is only a step toward peace and true fraternity among peoples of the world," the Pope declared. "It is necessary to watch further, to enlarge the horizon to world dimensions."

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

FIANCEE OR FINANCE COMPANY?

Dear Helen: My mother says my boyfriend is using me as a bank account.

I've been going steady with him for over two years. About six months ago he enlisted in the Navy to get it over with.

He calls me every week-end, half way across the country. These are collect calls that I have to pay myself and they run from $30 to $40 a month. My mother calls them "Barnacle Bills."

He promised to get me a diamond last week, but said now we'll have to postpone the ring because he needs a new car, which he asked me to help make payments on.

Is my mother right?—MONEY PROBLEMS

Dear M.P.: She is, she is! A sailor needs a car like he needs his civilian suit—not often enough to warrant buying a new one.

You are "Bum-a-call Bill's" finance, not his fiancée, and you'd better foreclose before you go broke.—H.

Dear Helen: Every once in a while you have a letter from a teen who thinks his or her mother is great. Also we make a great to do about Mother's Day, but poor Pop only gets a necktie and - or a pair of socks, plus he usually has to take us all out to dinner on HIS day.

Why don't you run an "I think My Father is the Best, Because—column on Father's Day, June 18th, or the day before?—FATHER APPRECIATOR

Dear Kids: How about it? Send me your "Father's are nice guys too" letters and I'll print the best of them on June 17th.—H.

Dear Helen: My boyfriend and I are seniors in high school. I know I will graduate, but there is no possible way Paul will. His parents don't seem to understand he has a reading problem, and they reprimand him constantly for not keeping up with the class.

I love Paul and we plan on marriage in a few years. He isn't a failure. He's intelligent and very capable and can earn a good living with his hands. Should I invite him and his parents to my graduation? I'm afraid if I do it would hurt them all the more, as he isn't sharing the honor with the rest of the class.—UNHAPPY GRADUATE TO BE

Dear UnHappy: By all means invite Paul and his parents to your graduation and let them know how proud you and your family are of a fellow who keeps trying.

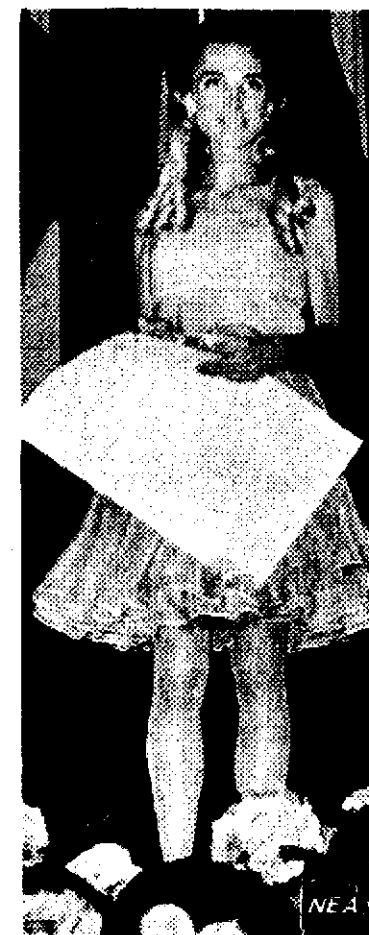

It's still not too late for Paul to take special remedial reading courses and graduate with next year's class—or before. Encouragement is the main ingredient, and I'm sure you'll provide it.—H.

Dear Helen: My girl friend is worried about her younger sister who is in the 11th grade and believes in heavy petting. My friend found a note from Ellen to another girl, saying she thinks petting is fun and you get lots of boyfriends that way.

An older sister of theirs got in trouble. Now the younger sister, Ellen, lies to her folks and sneaks out. Should my friend tell her mother what's happening?

Helen, why do boys have to con a decent girl into doing something like this?—DIANE

Dear Diane: Ellen's parents should certainly be told—and fast. But don't blame the boys entirely. From what you say, Ellen is a pro at "conning."—H.

Television and Radio

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The telephones in Kellam deForest's office rang busily. "Gunsmoke" wanted to know: Could an Indian testify at a court trial in Kansas in 1875? He could.

"Spy" asked: How is milk delivered to hotels in Morocco? Answer: in big cans, as in America.

DeForest, 40, wiry and intense, a distant cousin of the late inventor Dr. Lee deForest, is a fast fact-finder to the television industry. He is also a professional nit-picker who finds flaws in scripts.

A "Star Trek" scenario discovered a planet without variations in surface temperature. In a seven-page analysis finding 52 points technical-minded viewers might challenge in this script alone, deForest reported: "A planet without variations in surface temperature is impossible."

With two woman assistants, deForest, a former Yale history major, operates in what used to be the RKO Studio library, now part of the Desilu TV empire.

Five thousand reference books range from "Games and Songs of American Children" to "Executions—Legal Ways of Death Throughout the World." Table and shelves are piled high with magazines, 80 file drawers contain photos of almost anything imaginable, and the 1910 Encyclopedia Britannica gets more use than the current edition.

"I wanted to get into show business but found you can't get anywhere in this town without something to sell," says deForest, whose only competitors are the major movie studios' libraries. "With the rise of television, I could see there was going to be a need for this service."

Since 1951 he has served 38 TV series, the present dozen including "Get Smart," "Wild, Wild West," "Hogan's Heroes," "Big Valley" and Lucy.

Election Cost Before the Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to have the government pay major costs of presidential election campaigns is in the Senate spotlight not long after a related plan tied up the Senate for weeks.

The Senate Finance Committee is considering Johnson's recommendation that direct appropriations be made to finance television and radio broadcasts, newspaper advertising, campaign literature and travel expenses for presidential candidates.

Joseph W. Barr, undersecretary of the Treasury, was to be the opening witness for the administration at today's Finance Committee hearing.

The amount of subsidies, which each major party to receive an equal amount, was not suggested by Johnson.

Sox Trim Detroit's Slim Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pressure is getting to Carl Yastrzemski . . . and it's the best feeling he's had in seven years.

"Every time at bat means something now," Yastrzemski said Wednesday night after slouting his ninth and 10th home runs to help the Boston Red Sox edge Minnesota 3-2 for their fourth straight victory.

"We're playing tight ball games and you've got to be bearing down all the time," the slugging outfielder added as the Red Sox savored the heady atmosphere of third place in the American League race.

Yastrzemski has won one AL batting championship and barely missed another since joining Boston in 1961. But he has never played on a pennant contender.

This year, Yaz is off to his best start ever . . . and the Red Sox are keeping pace for a change.

Wednesday night's victory over the Twins left them 4½ games out of first place.

The Chicago White Sox trimmed Detroit's league lead to one-half game, nipping Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings while Cleveland was drubbing the Tigers 9-0 behind the six-hit, 13-strikeout pitching of Luis Tiant.

New York blanked Kansas City 3-0 and Washington trimmed California 6-3 in other AL games.

Philadelphia scored six runs in the 11th inning for a 6-0 victory over Los Angeles, San Francisco bombed Pittsburgh 15-4, the Chicago Cubs shaded Cincinnati 5-5 and Houston whipped the New York Mets 6-1 in National League play. Atlanta and St. Louis were rained out.

Yastrzemski's leadoff homers in the fourth and seventh innings staked right-hander Darrell Brandon to a 2-0 lead and the Red Sox added another run in the seventh on a suicide squeeze bunt by Mike Ryan.

That run turned out to be the winner when the Twins chased Brandon with a two-run burst in the eighth before reliever John Wyatt stemmed the tide.

The Red Sox are 22-20 for the season, compared to 16-26 at the same point last year, when they finished ninth. "I said before the season that this team would win more games than it loses, and I still believe that," said Manager Dick Williams.

Ron Hansen's run-scoring single in the 11th lifted the White Sox past Baltimore after Boog Powell's sacrifice fly pulled the Orioles even in the ninth.

Ken Berry, whose bunt single in the sixth delivered Chicago's second run, led off the 11th with a single, took second on a sacrifice bunt and scored the tie-breaking run on Hansen's hit.

Tiant breezed to his third victory against one setback and knocked in two runs with a sixth inning single. Leon Wagner and Larry Brown each drove in three runs for the Indians, who pounded six Detroit pitchers for 16 hits.

Rookies Steve Whitaker and Thad Tillotson led the Yankees to their shutout victory, with a ninth inning assist from relief specialist Dooley Womack.

Whitaker crashed a two-run homer and right-hander Tillotson, making his first major league start, checked the A's on five hits before tiring in the ninth.

Womack replaced him with one out and the bases loaded and struck out the last two KC hitters.

Cap Peterson's three-run homer and a two-run blast by Ken McMullen — both with two out in the third inning — paced the Senators' attack. Rookie pitcher Joe Coleman scattered nine hits for his third triumph.

The 'LA' Award

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — The Cy Young Memorial Award for baseball's top pitcher has been strictly a Los Angeles affair the last five years.

Since 1962, the trophy was won by Sandy Koufax of the National League Dodgers, three times; Don Drysdale of the Dodgers ('62); and Dean Chance of the Angels ('64).

National League hurlers have captured the award seven of 11 times since Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers took the first one in 1956.

Turbine Car Controversy Still Going

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Parnelli Jones' "whispering wind" turbine car died away and lost to A. J. Foyt Jr.'s conventional rear-engine Coyote Ford in Wednesday's 500-mile auto race.

But controversy over use of an aircraft engine for the first time in the 56-year-old race had not quieted today.

Henry Banks, director of competition for the U. S. Auto Club and himself a former national champion, said the question of running a turbine against piston engines "definitely will be brought up" at a June 5 meeting of the USAC rules committee.

"It's our job to keep the competition even; arranging formulas for that purpose is a foremost consideration," Banks said.

"There were no ground rules for a turbine and we think we came up with a pretty good formula for one. All you can do for a new development is run it once and then reconsider."

Foyt picked up a record first place check for $171,227 at the Victory Dinner Wednesday night. Jones, who slipped to sixth in the wreck-halted race, got $48,392 including $27,000 in prize for leading 171 of the 200 laps.

Foyt's record average was 151.207 m.p.h. against Jim Clark's 1965 mark of 150.686. Jones had one lap at 164.926, another record.

Second place Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., won $69,977 and third place Joe Leonard, Foyt's teammate, got $43,527. The total purse of $727,346.98 broke a record of $691,808.90 set last year.

The race, run in sections of 45 and 45½ miles because of a Tuesday interruption by rain, proved that the STP-Pratt & Whitney turbine could go off and hide from any piston engine on the track whenever Jones hit the throttle.

A $6 ball bearing finally failed in the gear box with less than 10 miles to go and the dogged Foyt won as he had in 1961 when leader Eddie Sachs stopped to change a tire with only 2½ miles to go.

Jones said he was running slowly and smoothly when the bearing went out. "I was going into the third," he said. "It felt just like pulling the car out of gear."

Foyt won the hard way in 1964 and joins the only other three-time winners, Louis Meyer, Wilbur Shaw and Mauri Rose.

Foyt said he might be in a turbine car himself next year if the rules aren't changed to bar it. He said he simply couldn't catch it when Jones was on the track.

WITH A COACH like Muriel Davis Grossfeld, men's gymnastics probably would become one of the country's most popular sports. Unfortunately, for the men, Muriel confines her coaching to the ladies. She's the Pan American Games coach for the United States. Muriel, 26, competed in three Olympiads for America.

Nye Huris, Bats Cubs Over Reds

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
"I just try to make them hit my pitch," says Rich Nye, who did quite a job of hitting theirs.

The Chicago Cub rookie left-hander beat the National League-leading Cincinnati Reds 6-5 Wednesday night, although he needed relief help in the ninth inning.

But Nye didn't need help in the batter's box, a place where pitchers usually feel anything but at ease. He drove in a run and scored twice on two singles, a double and a walk.

Houston whipped the New York Mets 6-1, Philadelphia downed Los Angeles 6-0 in 11 innings and San Francisco trounced Pittsburgh 15-4 in other National League action. The Atlanta at St. Louis game was rained out.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox nipped Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings, the New York Yankees blanked Kansas City 3-0, Boston edged Minnesota 3-2, Cleveland walloped Detroit 9-0 and Washington topped California 6-3.

Nye doubled in the third and scored on Glenn Beckert's single, singled home a run in the sixth and walked and scored in the Cubs' three-run eighth. His other hit was a bunt single in the fifth.

Beckert doubled home Nye and Ron Santo singled in the other two runs in the eighth as the Cubs took a 6-2 lead.

Then the Reds, who had been held to three hits by Nye in seven innings, finally got to the rookie in the eighth when they scored three times on a walk, single, two doubles and a fielder's choice. Nye finished the inning, and then Cal Koonce got the Reds out in the ninth.

Houston exploded for six runs in the sixth inning against the Mets, moving into ninth place by 13 percentage points over New York.

Three of the Astros' runs came in on singles by Jim Wynn and Bob Aspromonte and Rusty Staub's double. Ron Brand singled in two more and the sixth scored on an error by shortstop Bud Harrelson.

Dave Giusti allowed the Mets only four hits, one of them a homer by Bob Johnson, in gaining his second victory after five straight losses. He struck out eight and walked one.

The Phillies, held scoreless by Don Drysdale on six hits through 10 innings, exploded in the 11th, with Bill White driving in the first run with his first hit of the season, a single. White has been sidelined most of the season with a heel injury. He had gone 0 for 18.

After the second run scored, Phil Regan replaced Drysdale, but he couldn't get the final out until four more runs had crossed the plate to put the game out of reach.

Rick Wise and Dick Hall, who took over starting the 10th, scattered eight Los Angeles hits. San Francisco got a three-run homer from Jesus Alou in the fourth and a two-run shot by Ollie Brown an inning later in clobbering Pittsburgh and Handling Bob Veale his first loss after six victories. The Giants wrapped it up in the seventh when they scored six runs, only one of which was earned.

Gene Alley and Jose Pagan hit consecutive homers for the Pirates in the fourth.

With the Angels in 1966, Adcock led the American League by belting three homers in pinch-hitting roles.

Jockey Draws a Suspension

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Manuel Ycaza has drawn a 20-day suspension, starting Wednesday, for a foul that caused disqualification of Plymouth Pilgrim from second place in the first race at Aqueduct last Saturday.

Weather Is Big Factor to Nicklaus

By BOB GILBERT

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, remembering a 69 being washed out once, kept a wary eye on the threatening skies today as the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament moved into the first round.

The big bear from Columbus, Ohio, a former Memphis Open champ and pre-tournament favorite, examined the course after Wednesday's pro-am preliminary was canceled and commented: "Maybe they'll put in rice paddies."

Jack Tuthill, PGA tournament director, said 36 holes would be played Sunday if any one of the first rounds was lost to rain.

The Wednesday downpour was so heavy that ground crews prepared to sweep the greens and rework the sand traps if necessary.

Recalling a close match with Arnold Palmer in the Doral Open at Lafayette, La., Nicklaus said, "I was five under after eight holes and Arnold had started with a 75. The next day he had a 69 and I had a 70-something."

Defending Memphis Open champ Bert Yancey nursing a light cold, also kept an eye on the weather. He was chased from the course during a practice round Tuesday.

Nine 1967 PGA tournament winners are entered here — Randy Glover, George Archer, Bob Goalby, Dave Stockton, Dan Sikes, Miller Barber, Yancey, Nicklaus and Gay Brewer.

Also on hand are hometown hero Cary Middlecoff, former Masters and U.S. Open king, and South Africa's Gary Player.

The Open began as a $20,000

Nicklaus Leads Field at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) —

Jack Nicklaus, who has yet to strike gold this year, today led a field of 144 into the $100,000 first round of the 10th annual Memphis Invitational Open golf tournament.

Despite his reputation as a long-ball hitter on a course that traditionally favors strategy over strength, Nicklaus, was chosen by the oddsmakers (4 1-2 to 1) for his past performances here, which include a 9-under par 271 in 1965 to capture the title.

Other top competitors include Gary Player and Gay Brewer, who always do well on the 6,466-yard Colonial Country Club course; defending champion Bert Yancey, and Dave Stockton, winner of the National Invitational two weeks ago at Ft. Worth.

Arnold Palmer was not on hand for the tournament because of prior commitments in his home state of Pennsylvania. Veteran Ben Hogan and U.S. Open champ Billy Casper were also among the missing, but tournament chairman Curtis Person Sr. was pleased with this year's field.

"We have nearly everybody we want," Person said. "We've never had everybody of course, but I'll take this field."

Yancey won the 4-day, 72-hole tourney last year with a 15-under par 265, a record that is expected to stand. Most observers felt this year's winning score would be 268 or higher because of more difficult roughs and narrowed fairways at Colonial.

The Open began as a $20,000

Changes in Rosters of Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Monbouquette got another chance to save his major league pitching career, but Jim Bouton will have to make a go of it in the minors for a while.

Monbouquette released by Detroit two weeks ago, was signed Wednesday by the New York Yankees, who also optioned Bouton to Syracuse of the International League subject to 24-hour recall.

A 30-year-old right-hander, Monbouquette had his best year with Boston in 1963, winning 20 games. He pitched a no-hitter in 1962. Bouton, 28, won 21 games for the Yankees in 1964 but has had arm troubles lately.

In other action on the baseball trading and signing front Wednesday, San Francisco bought outfielder Ty Cline from Atlanta for something more than the $20,000 waiver price and sent Ken Henderson to Phoenix to make room for him.

Baltimore sold catcher Charlie Lau to Atlanta for an undisclosed sum and recalled backstop Vic Roznovsky from Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

Washington optioned pitcher Jim Hannan to Hawaii of the PCL to make room for first baseman Mike Epstein and pitcher Frank Bertina, who were obtained in a trade with Baltimore for pitcher Pete Ri-chert.

ROBERT MCCUNE

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Robert Francis McCune, president of Robert F. Campbell Shrugs Off His Defect

By RONALD THOMSON
FORMBY, England (AP) — Bill Campbell shrugged aside his own disappointment today and picked another American Walker Cup star — Bob Dickson — to win the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Campbell, of Huntington, W.Va., bowed out in the second round to a little known Englishman, Tim Bull. Campbell, pre-championship favorite and trying for the ninth time to win the crown, lost 4 and 3.

The defeat was hard for big Bill to take, but he still reckoned that the title will go to an first Construction Engineer so selected since the award's inception in 1947.

Among other outstanding men honored with the 1967 award are bandleader Lawrence Welk, Dr. Michael DeBakey, noted heart surgeon, Dr. John A. Howard, President of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois and Elmer Winter, president of Manpower, Inc. Past recipients include such famous names as Herbert Hoover, Dwight Eisenhower, Ralph Bunch, Conrad Hilton, Eddie Rickenbacker, Billy Graham and Dr. Norman Vincent Peale.

American this year. "Dickson played great golf in the Walker Cup at Sandwich," Campbell said. "He won all three of his matches and he's missing no shots. He's in a great mood. As far as I can see he's got no weaknesses at the moment."

Dickson, from Muskogee, Okla., went into the third round by defeating England's John Cook 4 and 2.

Two years ago it looked as though the 23-year-old Dickson had won the U.S. Amateur title — decided on medal play as against match play in the British Championship. Then he found he had carried an extra club for two holes — a mystery to him.

Dickson immediately reported it, but he was penalized four holes and in the end lost by only

Buckpasser Proves He Rates Tops

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Horse racing buffs were talking today of Buckpasser, of Dr. Fager and what is to come when Kentucky Derby winner Proud Clarion and Preakness winner Damascus hook up Saturday in the 99th running of the 1 1/2 miles of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct.

If there ever were any doubts that Buckpasser rates among the turf's all-time greats, the 4-year-old son of Tom Fool-Busanda dispelled them Tuesday when he carried 130 pounds over the one mile of the $109,200 Metropolitan Handicap in 1:34 3-5 at Aqueduct for his 15th straight victory and third place on the all-time money winning list.

The first-place purse of $70,980 boosted the bank account of the Cgden Phipps ace to $1,342,204. Ahead of him are Kelso, No. 1 with $1,977,896 and Round Table, No. 2 with $1,749,869.

The Metropolitan, in which he beat lightly regarded Yonker by 1 1/4 lengths without any undue urging by jockey Braulio Baeza, probably was Buckpasser's last on a dirt track for sometime.

Phipps and trainer Eddie Delo, who has saddled the last two Metropolitan winners, Gun Bow in 1965 and Bold Lad in 1966, have their eyes on the prestigious Prix de St. Cloud in France on July 2.

With that 1 9-16 miles race in mind, Buckpasser next will try his speed and stamina on the grass in the Bowling Green Handicap at Aqueduct June 17. If all goes well he'll head for foreign soil.

By contrast, Dr. Fager was placed out of the money for the first time in his career after chalking up six victories and one second in seven starts with a victory over Damascus among his conquests.

The 3-year-old son of Rough 'N Tumble from W. L. McKnight's Tartan Stable beat In Reality by 6 1/2 lengths as he tied the stake record for the 1 1/2 miles of the $119,200 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park with a clocking of 1:48.

one stroke to Bob Murphy of Nichols, Fla., in the 72-hole championship.

Campbell, however, warned against writing off any of the American Walker Cup players. "It's a putting course here as much as anything else," Campbell said. "Downing Gray, Murphy and Ed Tutwiler all are fine putters."

"Tutwiler is a great match player. Don't count him out because he's 47."

Gray comes from Pensacola, Fla., and Tutwiler from Indianapolis, Ind.

U.S. to Air Lift 700 From Nigeria

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The U.S. Embassy is making plans to begin an airlift Saturday of some 700 Americans from the breakaway eastern region of Nigeria as war threatens between the rebels and central governmental forces.

U.S. Ambassador Elbert G. Matthews advised American firms to withdraw dependents from the eastern region which its military governor, Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, has declared the independent republic of Biafra.

Beginning Saturday, chartered DC4 planes will evacuate 700 elderly persons, children, pregnant women and others described as "unable to travel quickly during an emergency." Most of them will come from Port Harcourt, where about 800 of the 2,000 Americans in eastern Nigeria live. The evacuation is expected to continue for a week.

The embassy has not yet obtained permission to run a daily airlift to Enugu, capital of the breakaway eastern region, secessionist state. U.S. officials must negotiate with authorities of both the central and eastern governments since flights to the east from the rest of Nigeria were banned as part of the sanctions against Ojukwu's regime.

British and Italian authorities also began making arrangements to withdraw 3,000 Britons and 300 Italians who live in the 30,099-square-mile eastern territory.

The 27,300-ton British aircraft carrier Albion broke off from exercises near the Scottish coast and sailed for an "unknown destination," the British Defense ministry disclosed.

There was speculation in London that it might be bound for Nigeria, if not for the Middle East.

Diplomats said fighting appeared imminent as Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, head of the central government, began mobilizing Nigeria's armed forces.

The navy ordered officers and men on leave to report for duty and military reservists and ex-servicemen were ordered to register. Registration started in Lagos Wednesday with about 50 former servicemen heading up the line.

Peace Corps After College Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps is increasingly zeroing in on the college senior as the ideal volunteer and private industry apparently is feeling the agency's recruiting effect.

Six years of Peace Corps experience has shown, says recruiting chief Charles W. Butler, "that the type person we are looking for can be most easily found on the college campus, and more specifically among the seniors."

"My ideal volunteer is a liberal arts graduate who shows he can get along with people, has a degree of tolerance and won't quit when the going gets tough," says Butler—himself a former volunteer.

Of the Peace Corps' 4,350 volunteers in 1962, 70.6 per cent were college graduates. That proportion increased to 80.3 per cent for last year's 13,999 volunteers.

The agency notes private industry is increasingly aware of strong college campus recruiting done by the Peace Corps, which has refined its techniques to aim for the cream of college seniors.

"We know they don't like it very much," said one source. "But can you blame them? They're after the same kind of person we want."

Typical of the competition going on is the advertisement placed in college newspapers by General Electric.

"Want to change the world?" the copy says. "Join the Peace Corps... or join General Electric."

The body of the ad says: "Let's face it, the Peace Corps isn't everybody. Neither is medicine, law or social work. But you can get a lot of the same kind of satisfaction from a job with General Electric."

"Because we, too, are trying to make life on earth more livable."

A series of advertisements in the college edition of Time magazine this winter carried similar messages to students written in the name of industrial leaders.

"Nobody's putting down the Peace Corps—or any of the other public service projects competing for your postgraduate abilities. But you don't have to live in a favela or share a sleeping bag with tsetse flies to test your mind and spirit," said one ad.

"Even surrounded by creature comforts in modern office buildings, you'll find there's a special kind of excitement and satisfaction in business. Here's the way Robert O. Anderson, board chairman of Atlantic Richfield Company, tells it:"

Anderson then describes the excitement and challenge of the business world.

Manipulations of Stock Is Under Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 20 brokerage house employees are being questioned by investigators looking into allegations of multimillion-dollar manipulations of certain stock exchange issues.

The brokerage salesmen, employed by more than a dozen firms in New York and Chicago, are being asked if they were offered or accepted cash bribes, or submitted to blackmail threats, by the reputed stock riggers who sought to generate public buying in the issues. Some of the men already have been fired or suspended by their firms.

It was understood that the interrogations were being conducted by the stock exchanges with which they are affiliated and, in some cases, by a federal grand jury here.

The investigation, moving forward on several fronts, is being rapidly expanded. At least two New York Stock Exchange issues now are under scrutiny along with a larger group traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Probers said the reputed rigging schemes are continuing and are costing brokers and investors uncalculated millions of dollars.

In addition to the grand jury and major stock exchanges, the situation is being looked at by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Chicago Police Department.

One prominent Chicago broker, partner in a member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, received a death threat by telephone after suspending a salesman who was being questioned. The salesman later was reinstated.

Piano Pupils Audition

On May 27, piano pupils of Mrs. Neva Carmichael participated in the National Piano Playing Audition, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers of which their teacher is a member. Honors were conferred certificates and club pins presented according to the number of standard classic, romantic and modern pieces chosen from the masters of pianoforte literature that each student creditably performed in the presence of an examiner of note. Their scores ranged from 87 to 95 per cent. Steel Ship Launched 50 Years Ago

By DON GUY
BATH, Maine (AP) — The first steel sailing ship ever built in the United States, a lofty four-masted square rigger, was sunk by a German submarine 50 years ago.

The "Dirigo"—her name, meaning "I Lead," is on the state of Maine seal—was launched in Bath Feb. 3, 1894.

The Dirigo first tasted salt spray in the twilight of the age of sail, but a few tall ships were still able to make a living plying the Atlantic and Pacific oceans with bulk cargoes.

Dirigo's fateful voyage really began in October, 1915, at Seattle when she shipped a cargo of barley for Sweden.

The war had been under way for a year and U-boat losses were mounting. Helped for neutral Sweden, her skipper felt he could make port unmolested.

After sailing the Pacific and up the Atlantic, Dirigo was captured by the British early in March 1916, off Scotland.

The British claimed her cargo was really shipped to a German agent and the Germans intended to capture the ship themselves as she neared Sweden.

A British court found that her cargo did belong to the enemy. The ship was seized but declared unfit for sea.

Blockaded Britain desperately needed any hull that could float, however, and Dirigo was returned to sea a year later. But she had hardly started to ride the Atlantic swells when a German submarine sank her off the Cornwall coast of southern England on May 31, 1917.

Dirigo was 312 feet long, of 3,005 tons, about the size of a small freighter.

Jack London, the novelist, shipped aboard once in New York and rounded the Horn to San Francisco.

It was a fairly quiet voyage as Cape Horn passages go, but the experience embellished London's colorful writing on hell ship captains, stormy seas and bloody decks for the rest of his career.

Dirigo carried 13,000 square yards of canvas on her four masts, more sail than an entire yacht club fleet today. The new version of the famed schooner "America" launched recently in East Boothbay, has less than 600 square yards of sail.

The Bath Marine Museum has one of the few souvenirs left of Dirigo in this shipbuilding town. A three-foot model is on loan from the Sewell family that built her.

Museum curator Harold Brown notes a coincidence in Dirigo's ending her days within sight of the English coast.

"Her steel plates were fabricated in England. They were shipped over here and put together like a jigsaw puzzle."

Better Tea
Altitudes of 3,000 to 7,000 feet produce the finest quality of tea. The moderate temperatures at these heights produce a smaller leaf with less water content and more flavor.

Joan Crosby's TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Most actors, when they leave a television series role behind, never want to be reminded of the part again, much less play it again.

Not so Craig Stevens, who had a long run as Peter Gunn in a much-honored television series that stopped production in 1960. Now he has returned to the character in a Paramount movie, soon due for release, called simply, "Gunn."

"A lot of people told me I was out of my mind to do the character again," Craig said. "Others told me I would always be identified with the role and some asked 'Where's the challenge?' Well, I found it a challenge to take a role I had played for several years and not do a re-creation. I'm flattered that, to my knowledge, Blake Edwards, who created the television series, and who produced and di-turning and doing a movie. I'm up for four other pictures. Three are junk and one is marvelous. I also hope to do several Gunns, since I am committed to Edwards for more. But the thing is, now I'm back in the motion picture business."

It may not be Peyton Place, but an island in a lake in New Jersey is home to Tim O'Connor when he has free time from his role as Elliot Carson in the ABC-TV serial.

The water around the island is also a swimming hole for O'Connor, inadvertently more often than not.

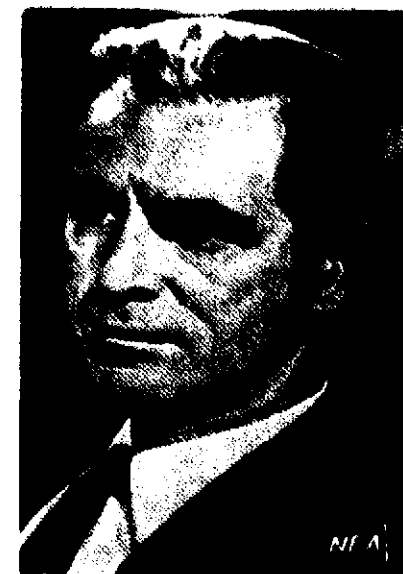

"There's a Chaplinesque thing to some of my spills off the dock," he smiles. "Once I was saying goodbye to some people who had walked to the dock with me. I turned and waved and went in the drink. At the time I was on Broadway and my wife, Mary, was in The Secret Storm. There was a jewelry store right next to the studio where she did the show, and she took my watch in for repairs so often it got so no one would say a word. They just knew I had fallen in again."

Tim, who spent two weeks of his vacation this year touring Vietnam with fellow Peytoners Ed Nelson, Chris Connelly and Patricia Morrow, miss not being able to see the season's change on "O'Connor's Island."

"It's so gorgeous covered with snow and ice, and then spring and summer come and they're even more beautiful. In fall it's something else. The water is like glass, and it reflects all the trees and their vivid color."

Despite missing his home, O'Connor is very happy in Peyton Place. Despite his Broadway background, he has discovered there is great honesty in the work of a camera. "I always felt guilty about saying this, because I thought the only rich stuff was on the stage. But when I realized this was not necessarily true, I realized that acting for the camera was something I really wanted to do since I was a kid."

Destructive Pest
In 1954, a new pest called the alfalfa aphid arrived in California. Within one year it had inflicted a loss of $35 million in crop damage and cost of control, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

rected the movie, never considered anyone else for the role."

After Peter Gunn ceased television production, Craig went to England, where he filmed a series. Then he returned to New York, where he and his wife, Alexis Smith, still make their home and appeared on Broadway in Meredith Willson's musical, "Here's Love."

"It's strange, but now that I have been back to Hollywood to work, people are asking where I have been, as if I'm not alive if I'm not in town. Now, as a result of re-
